

Diane Wang is the Founder and CEO of DHgate.com. Founded in 2004, DHgate.com is China's first cross-border B2B e-commerce transactional marketplace, and evolved into a leading one-stop trade and service platform for small and medium-sized retailers. Dedicated to empowering SMEs to buy and sell globally, it connects over 2 million suppliers, over 21 million global buyers from 222 countries and regions, with over 22 million product listings.

Before DHgate, Ms. Wang was the co-founder and first CEO of Joyo.com, which was the largest B2C marketplace in China (today's Amazon China). Prior to that, Ms. Wang held senior management positions at Microsoft and Cisco.

She has received numerous awards, including 25 Most Influential People for Chinese Economy (2009), Top 10 IT Giants in China (2010), Top 10 Women of China (2012), and Most Powerful Businesswoman, Mulan Award (2014-2019).

Additionally, Ms. Wang has served as Rotating Chairperson of the Entrepreneurs Committee of the China APEC SME Alliance, Chinese representative to G20 Business Summit (B20), Co-Chair of B20 SME Taskforce, Chairperson of China Cross-border E-commerce 50 Forum, Member of the Digital Silk Road Commission (HKTDC), as well as Member of the High-level Advisory Council (HAC) of the World Internet Conference Organizing Committee.
