

Ruth Jeanne J. Aguas
Program Officer
ABAC International Secretariat

Ruth is currently Program Officer at the APEC Business Advisory Council (ABAC) International Secretariat. From 2013-2015, she worked as Project Development Officer and Research Staff at the Makati Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Office where, as technical coordinator on international relations, she assisted in organizing workshops and seminars on monitoring Makati City's international commitments in DRRM. She also handled projects in collaboration with City's international partners such as the UN Office for Disaster Reduction, CITYNET, etc. Also, she undertook research ranging from DRRM, climate change, urban planning, regional governance and disaster risks in the Asia and the Pacific for reporting, planning and IEC campaigns.

She is currently taking Masters of International Studies with units in Community Development at the University of the Philippines. Her research interests include international development, development cooperation, international institutions, regime theory, climate change and disaster risk reduction and management. Her fascination in the global arena started while she was earning her degree in Bachelor of Arts in European Languages, also at the University of the Philippines where she studied Italian and German language and culture and an introductory course in Official Development Assistance (ODA).
