

Motomu Takahashi is Counselor of Mitsui & Co., Ltd. Since joining the company, he has engaged predominantly in the Iron, Steel & Metals business. He gained extensive experience in the global marketing and investment business through overseas assignments in Saudi Arabia (four years) and USA (fifteen years). Having assumed various executive positions in Mitsui USA and the Board Chairman of Steel Technologies Inc. USA, he was elected to Managing Officer and Deputy Chief Operating Officer of the Mitsui Americas Business Unit in New York, then as Managing Officer and Chief Operating Officer of Iron & Steel Products Business Unit of Mitsui Headquarters in Tokyo. He became Senior Executive Managing Officer and Chief Operating Officer of the Americas Business Unit and then joined the board of Mitsui & Co., Ltd. as Representative Director and Executive Vice President, supervising business units of Metal Resources, Steel Products, Consumer goods, Healthcare & Services until 2017.

He is a graduate of the Faculty of Economics, University of Tokyo and also of the AMP 2001 at Harvard Business School, Cambridge, MA.