

Mark Burkhalter is CEO of Burkhalter International, a global consulting firm which has represented Fortune 500 U.S. companies successfully navigating the challenges and opportunities facing U.S. businesses in Asia. For the last eleven years, Mr. Burkhalter served as Senior Advisor for the Global Public Policy and Regulation practice group for the world's largest law firm - Dentons. Dentons has offices in 14 of the 21 APEC economies. In this capacity, he represented and promoted business development for dozens of U.S. corporations throughout Asia and Europe. Mr. Burkhalter also has extensive experience in public service, having served 18 years as an elected State Representative in Georgia where he served as Speaker of the House. While in office, he led dozens of official government delegations with elected leaders promoting economic development and trade between Georgia and various Asian economies.