

Chey Scovell is CEO of the Manufacturers Council of Papua New Guinea (PNG).

Mr. Scovell has over 20 years of experience as the point of contact between those that create wealth (private sector) and those with responsibility for managing the playing field (government). He advises governments on trade at the multilateral (WTO, APEC, US-AU FTA, US-Multilateral Fisheries Treaty, MSG, PICTA, PACER+), bilateral (EU-PNG Economic Partnership), and businesses with trade and investment regionally and into 3rd markets (EU, ASEAN).

Parallel to his role as CEO of the Manufacturers Council of PNG, through his private company, he provides advisory services to Ministers of State, Parliamentarians, and multilateral associations as well as advisory and management services to commercial entities.

Mr. Scovell also has 15 years of experience as a professional director in infrastructure, energy, sports, statutory, and industry association sectors.

He holds a degree in Asian Studies (Econ & PolSc) from Griffith University. He has completed post-graduate studies in Export Management and Finance and is presently undertaking a Masters in Law (Business).