

Joseph Fung is the Managing Partner of Saltagen Ventures, a venture capital fund house based in Hong Kong, China. With extensive experience as an investor, entrepreneur, and operator since 2002, he specializes in the fields of life sciences, material sciences, agricultural technology, and clean technology. Mr. Fung actively collaborates with public-private institutions in Canada and Asia to support startups in their global development.

In addition to his role at Saltagen Ventures, Mr. Fung is the founder and managing director of Fairchild Canadian Academy (FCA), a group of schools in Hong Kong, China, focused on inquiry-based early childhood education. FCA is renowned for its research and development partnerships with prestigious institutions such as Simon Fraser University, University of British Columbia, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong Baptist University, and The Education University of Hong Kong.

Mr. Fung holds several prominent positions within the business community. He serves as the Hong Kong ABLAC representative for the Asia Pacific Foundation, the Innovation and Technology Chair for the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Hong Kong, China, and an advisory board member of Creative Destruction Labs Global. Additionally, he is a management board director of Versitech under the University of Hong Kong, a board director of the Hong Kong Medical and Health Devices Industry Association, and a board director of Saint George's School.