

Michaela Browning is Partner and CEO for Asia Pacific at Brunswick Group.

She was previously Vice President and the Regional Head of Government and Public Policy for Asia Pacific at Google.

Ms. Browning has held a range of senior positions in the Australian government prior to this, including as a senior diplomat of more than 27 years with a focus on Asia, trade and security. This included roles as Consul General for Hong Kong, China and Macau (2017-2020), inaugural CEO of the National Foundation of Australia-China relations (2020), leading global investment promotion and trade deal teams across established markets at the Australian Trade and Investment Commission (2015-2017), a trade negotiator at the WTO and on the Australia-USA and Australia-Singapore Free Trade Agreements, and as Senior International Adviser to ministers for Defense and Foreign Affairs.

She currently serves as a Non-Executive Director on the board of Singtel Optus. She also sits on the board of the US-ASEAN Business Council, the Australia-Japan Business Cooperation Committee, and Asia Society Australia.