

Francisco Suarez Hernandez is currently the Director of Public Affairs and Strategic Relations at FEMSA, a position he assumed since 2023. He began his professional career at FEMSA in 1996 where he held several executive positions within the Packaging Division, Director of Chairman and CEO's office, Chief Sustainability Officer, Director of Corporate Affairs of Coca Cola FEMSA, CEO of AdeS for Latin America. He was also the Chairman of the Board of World Environment Center, based in Washington, D.C. (WEC) from 2015-2018.

In addition, he is a board member of different organizations such as Fondo Mexicano para la Conservación de la Naturaleza, A.C., California Institute of Advanced Management (CIAM) in Los Angeles, California, U.S.A., Treasurer of Board of Aldeas S.O.S. Mexico and National Board Member of Enactus Mexico.

He is part of the Editorial Board of Mundo Ejecutivo, Ganar-Ganar and Mundo Empresarial Magazine. In addition, he is also a regular columnist on business and sustainability issues and editorialist for newspapers such as El Vigía, Empresability, El Capitalino, El Herald de Mexico, and Diario Judío and a regular columnist for Forbes Mexico and El Financiero-Bloomberg.